LEADERS SEE DEMOCRATIC TICKET VICTORY

PARTY SUCCESS IN CONGRESS IS SHOUSE VIEWS

Washington, October 31.—In a forecast of the November election results, Chairman J. H. Shouse of the Democratic National Executive Committee, in a public statement says:

"Unhesitatingly make the prediction today, based on a dispassionate summary of the facts, allowing full consideration to over-optimism in some of our reports, that the House of Representatives of the Seventy-Second Congress will show a Democratic majority. To attain this requires that the Democrats should elect Representatives to 54 seats now held by Republicans. My figures show a minimum of 60 seats in this category. I firmly believe that the overturn will be nearer 70 than 60."

Chairman Shouse points out that he does not mean control through a coalition with the Progressive wing of the Republican Party in the House, but "a definite working majority of the Democratic Party, regardless of Republican rifts and factions in the House membership."

Concerning results in the Senatorial election, Chairman Shouse says that "there are too many States in which the issue is close to justify a similar prediction."

Citing the present complexion of the Senate as 39 Democrats, 56 Republicans and 1 Farmer-Laborite, he says:

"The most conservative estimate for the Senate after March 4, 1931, according to our reports, gives us 45 Democrats, 50 Republicans, including all their factions, and the one Farmer-Labor man, Shipstead. This takes no account of such states as Illinois, Minnesota, South Dakota, Colorado and Wyoming, in all of which States the outcome is doubtful. . . . If we win in three of these doubtful States, we will have one more Senator than the Republicans."

He calls attention to the fact that in several of these states correspondents of great newspapers give the Democrats the best of the situation.

He lists Congressional gains, according to Democratic figures, as 7 in New England, 15 in the group comprising New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and West Virginia, all of the seats in the South that were lost in the Hoover election; not far from 30 in the Middle West, extending from Ohio to Kansas.

He asserts that the present cry of Republican leaders, like Secretary Davis and Senator Watson, that a Democratic victory would mean that the country would be plunged into another tariff revision not only asperses the stability of President Hoover, but indicates the party's precarious hold on Congress.

The proposal has been made to use the huge volume of 1929 wheat owned by the Federal Farm Board as a means of relief for the needy unemployed. It would doubtless also afford a large measure of relief to Chairman Legge.

Bowers' Incisive Epigrams
The following incisive epigrams are from the recent radio address of Claude G. Bowers on "The Collapse of An Administration":

"The full dinner pail is now a punctured can."
"The farmers' relief bill is as meaningless today as the note of a man who died insolvent."

"Joe Grundy, that horny-handed dirt farmer from the fields of privilege."

"Some credit this monstrosity (tariff bill) to Mr. Grundy, and some to the administration; but there is enough dishonor to go round."

"We don't believe that he (the President) who was pleased and who applauded can now be relied upon through the flexibility clause (of the tariff act) to commit mayhem upon the child he has taken to his bosom and adopted as his own."

"They (the Republicans) furnished the gas for the desperate inflation."

"The jobless man cannot cash a presidential statement at the grocery."

"We demand that privilege take its hands off the instrumentalities of the state that prosperity may return through the natural operation of economic laws."

"The President has not endorsed any candidate and he cannot even endorse me, and I am a member of his cabinet."—Secretary of Labor Davis as quoted by the Associated Press.

The facts that President Hoover congratulated Dwight W. Morrow on his nomination and expressed hope for this election, and also wrote a letter of approval to a Republican candidate for Congress in Tennessee cannot be concealed by the statement even of a cabinet member that "the President has not endorsed any candidate." These facts are too well known to everyone except Secretary Davis.

Administration Propaganda Delayed Realization of Business Depression

In editorial comment, summarizing some of the points in a recent speech delivered by Governor Roosevelt of New York, in which he arraigned the Republican National Administration in connection with the stock market inflation and subsequent depression, the New York World, after citing the activities of Mr. Coolidge and Mr. Mellon in promoting the inflation in the New York stock market, says:

"When the collapse came, Mr. Hoover continued to follow the unsound policy of attempting to run the country's business from the White House. We do not refer to his conferences with the industrial leaders after the panic. They served a useful purpose in allaying the feeling of panic. We refer to the continued prophecies from Washington that the depression was over and the incessantly misleading figures produced by cabinet officers. This propaganda was worse than ineffective. It was positively mischievous."

"For at least six months, that is until the end of the spring, the Hoover propaganda stood in the way of a realistic acceptance of the fact that we were in the midst of a depression which involved inevitably a decline in commodity and security prices. In so far as the Hoover propaganda was believed, investors bought stocks which were still on the way down and business men bought goods which lost value while they had them on their hands. By June the country had realized that the surest way to lose money was to follow advice from the White House. As a result, every time Mr. Hoover made a statement the markets took another drop. People had been taught by bitter experience that the presidential utterances and the economic facts were running counter to each other."

"Governor Roosevelt very ably challenged the Hoover administration on this ground. He challenged it also and quite rightly, for its failure to take measures in time of prosperity for the alleviation of the unemployment which was sooner or later to follow. The story of Mr. Hoover's attitude toward the Wagner bills will not pass for constructive statesmanship."

Related Unemployment Relief.

For ten months the administration sought to conceal the seriousness of the unemployment crisis. It issued repeated statements underestimating the number of jobless on the streets through the spring, summer and early fall. But now because the bread lines are lengthening at the dawn of winter, because the charity organizations are broadcasting appeals for help, because an impatient public has turned the batteries of its criticism upon the seeming apathy of the administration, the President concedes the crisis as winter comes and begins preliminary plans two weeks before the election! God grant that good may come, however late, but what excuse can the administration offer for the previous ten months lost before the winter blasts began to blow?—From Radio Address by Claude G. Bowers.

More Farm Relief—In the last ten years of Republican rule the number of farms in the United States decreased 150,466, according to figures cited by the Census Bureau. They reached their peak in 1920—the last year of the last Democratic administration, when there were 6,448,343. Since then they have declined to 6,297,877.

Ind. Mine Adds Extra Shift

Brazil, Ind., Oct. 30.—(UP)—Work for about 20 former employees of the Big Bend Coal company with the starting of a third eight-hour shift at the company's strip-ping pits near Centerpoint. The mine has been working only two shifts of men since last spring when the third shift was discontinued.

PROSPERITY RUMOR FACTORY NOW WORKING OVERTIME, TOO, SUTTON

Delbert, the Prosperity Press Agent of the Republican party here, omitted one of the most important industries when he so rosiely painted Muncie as the rejuvenated industrial paradise with overtime pay and jobs galore.

He failed to list the REPUBLICAN GANG PROSPERITY RUMOR FACTORY that especially during the week has been engaged in a great production of prosperity propaganda for the voters and the people of the world-at-large to read and still be hungry.

Both the Republican dailies here have devoted columns to the great, sudden prosperity that has come to Muncie and they are endeavoring to stem the tide of dissatisfaction among the men and women who are and have been JOBLESS for months with a vision of big dough.

It's an old Republican gang trick. Years ago the gang were in the habit of posting notices on factory bulletin boards that if the workers didn't vote the Republican gang ticket the factory would close and the jobs would go ker-floey.

That proved so raw that a law was passed prohibiting the Republican gang from hijacking the voters in such a crude manner for it was vote for the gang or else—and lots of time the, or else happened, too.

This trick and crude blackmail of the voters that was prevented by law has been utilized by the two Muncie dailies through the sudden prosperity series during the past few days in an attempt to halt the Democratic landslide that is quite noticeable this election. The misrepresentation expressed in these rumors merely indicates to what ends the Republican gang aided and abetted by the daily newspapers will go to attempt to fool the voters and put over the crudest, vilest, infamous, dastardly, cowardly, malicious lot of propaganda ever foisted upon the people of Muncie and vicinity.

For months and months the Republican gang from the national administration down has had PROSPERITY JUST AROUND THE CORNER and the citizens of the country have been unable to reach that corner. In fact we doubt if it is around the corner anyway for this gang has demonstrated that the international minds of the Republican gang stuck a snag.

Other countries of the globe penetrated the sham of the national administration through the most excessive and robbing tariff of years and promptly isolated the United States with some barriers of their own and the world

RADIO SPEECH BY MAYOR DALE OVER WLBC 6:30 O'CLOCK MONDAY NIGHT

Mayor Dale will speak on the election over WLBC beginning at 6:30 o'clock Monday evening.

This radio speech will climax the Democratic campaign here and his discussion of the political situation is awaited with much interest by the voters.

Although the mayor has spoken at several meetings during the present campaign this is his first radio speech and arrangements were completed yesterday for the event with the broadcasting station.

During the mayoralty campaign last year the mayor used the radio frequently to bring his candidacy to the voters and he was elected to the office of Mayor of Muncie by the largest vote in the history of the city.

The mayor as center of Democratic activities here will give the voters his views of the election in his characteristic frank and fearless manner which brought thousands of voters to his candidacy and their warm, enthusiastic support of his administration since the beginning of the year.

WLBC officials realizing the scope of the mayor's eve of the election speech rearranged the station's schedule so that the city's executive could go on the air promptly at 6:30 o'clock Monday night.

While business depression is reflected in the Internal Revenue collections for the first quarter of the present fiscal year—July 1 to September 30—when revenues dropped $62,471,504, as compared with first quarter of the last fiscal year, the intensity of the situation is shown by the fact that the decline in September of $48,847,552 was more than three times as much as in July and August.

The corporation tax collections declined $14,055,350, and individual income tax receipts decreased $41,684,842 in the quarter.

One effect of the collapse of the stock market in October, 1929, is shown by the decrease in revenue on capital stock sales and transfers, amounting to $5,314,000. In the month of September, this fiscal year, the drop in this class of revenue was $2,673,000, compared with September, 1929, the last month of what has been called the Coolidge-Mellon-Hoover inflated stock market.

Jobless persons in the United States are now estimated at 4,500,000 by the Standard Statistics Company in a detailed review of the unemployment situation. These figures do not include the unemployed in agricultural pursuits. They number 1,000,000 persons more than the administration's official estimate, as stated by the Washington Evening Star, which says:

"The official estimate sets the unemployment at 3,500,000."

It is up to the present Republican politicians in office to explain."

That the Republican state officials owe an explanation to the people of Indiana as to their failure to collect millions of dollars due on gas tax as well as refusal to prosecute apprehended defrauders of the state was the forceful assertion of Hon. Walter Myers of Indianapolis, at the recent Democratic mass meeting at North Vernon.

"Not long since, legitimate gasoline dealers of the state found themselves undersold by prices that were impossible to meet," said Mr. Myers.

"They investigated. Evidence was found which pointed to the non-payment of the gas tax; and of course, legitimate dealers could be undersold on a margin of 40 a gallon."

"Not until the press took up the fight could official action be had, though the law provides means whereby gasoline tax dodging can easily be detected. The railroads report the number of tank cars of gasoline received by the various dealers of the state. The dealers report the sales. The tax is therefore a simple matter of deduction."

"Yet it was found that one concern in Indianapolis got 32 tank cars from the railroads but reported to the state auditor the receipt of 12 tanks. They failed to pay tax on 20 cars. A tank car holds approximately 8,000 gallons. The tax on the 160,000 gallons would have been lost were it not for these investigators. It amounted to $6,400."

"As chairman of the Republican State Speakers Bureau, the official in charge is a fine watch-dog of the gasoline tax when sums like that get away; and nobody seems to know how long it has been going on."

"Figures in the Auditor's office show that the average consumption of gasoline by automobiles in Indiana is 47 gallons per car less than the national average for the United States. A Republican administration seems to lessen gasoline consumption."

"U. S. officials, automobile clubs, and gasoline dealers have all been puzzled by the showing. They know that something is wrong; that Indiana should, with its mild winters and being a cross roads of national travel, stand above the national average in gas consumption; and that the only conceivable answer is that the low average of consumption is due to non-payment of the gas tax."

"Calculation at 47 gallons below the average shows Indiana's loss on gas tax is approximately $1,692,000 a year inasmuch as around 900,000 autos are listed in the state."

"Either the officials in charge are blind or political connections such as those discovered in the northern part of the state have outweighed the law."

"It is up to the present Republican politicians in office to explain."

Unparalleled Enthusiasm and Unusual Confidence Marks Party Workers and Leaders On Eve of Election—Organization for the Polls to be Largest in History of Democratic Activities for Many Years—Big Vote Expected.

Unparalleled enthusiasm and unusual confidence marks the local Democratic leaders and scores of workers on the eve of the election and a party victory is seen at the November 4 voting by them.

Seldom in the last few years has the Democratic workers and leaders expressed so much confidence of victory and pep abounds on every hand as never before experienced as evidenced by the various meetings in the county campaign.

This year's activities in a way indicated the trend of the voter and the county leaders are anticipating a record Democratic victory something similar to the last November municipal landslide.

Failure of the national Republican administration to adequately cope with the general conditions and likewise the most unsatisfactory and extravagant state administration of the Republican party has led the voters to be thoroughly disgusted and they are turning to the Democratic party to rescue them from this dilemma.

And this is not the first time that voters have turned enmass to the Democrats to straighten out years of Republican inefficiency and misrule, but ever so often the party is placed in power to straighten out the Republican made tangles.

In the last city election the voters of Muncie turned enmass to the Democratic ticket to rescue Muncie from the Republican gang—Cromer-Billy Williams-Lon Thornburg exploitation with its well known extravagance and high costs and these same voters are looking to the Democratic party to rescue the county this election.

Inefficiency and extravagance marks the state Republican gang administration of Indiana and the voters here are going to do their part toward the election of the fine, splendid Democratic state ticket as a relief from these conditions which are fast becoming intolerable.

Headed by Frank Mayr Jr., the successful South Bend business men and Democratic leader in northern Indiana for many years, the nominee for secretary of state will carry the party standard to a decisive state victory.

Everyone on the state ticket is able and has a program of real merit for the voters in the conduct of their office. Floyd E. Williamson of Indianapolis, the candidate for auditor of state, is one of the insurance men leaders in Indiana and a fine type of citizen illustrative of the splendid group of state candidates.

William Storen, Scottsburg banker and business man, has several years' experience in governmental matters as a state representative before becoming the party's candidate for treasurer of state.

From our neighboring city of Richmond, Fred R. Pickett, attorney and war veteran, carries the esteem of all in his candidacy for reporter of the state supreme and appellate courts. Pickett is one of the younger Democrats and his forceful personality and vigor has endeared him to the electorate of Indiana.

George C. Cole of Lawrenceburg, veteran educator, is the nominee for superintendent of public instruction and his years of experience in school problems and their solution makes him a most valuable man for the school post especially in these days when the entire educational system of the state needs such a man at its helm.

The party's judicial nominees are the finest type of lawyers and citizens who are needed in this crisis in state affairs. For the two seats on the supreme court bench there are Walter E. Treanor, prominent southern Indiana jurist from Bloomington in the first judicial district and Curtis W. Roll, of Kokomo, the sterling jurist from Kokomo in the fourth judicial district. These two nominees are illustrative of the highest type of legal minds and citizenship in the state on the judicial phase of the ticket.

In the first division of the appellate court, Posey T. Kime of Evansville and William H. Bridewell, of Sullivan, the nominee, are known throughout the state for their ability and public spirited service. They too, are indicative of the distinguished Democrats taking places on the state ticket to insure victory this fall.

Alphonso C. Wood of Angola and Harvey J. Curtis of Gary, the second division nominees, have long been identified with Democratic party affairs

Vote for Constitutional Convention

Citizens voting Tuesday are urged to cast a ballot for the holding of a constitutional convention. For the manner in which the best minds of the state from time to time have interpreted the one we have, it certainly is time to get a new one.

Constitution making, the opponents to the convention, are loud to declare is intricate and the people of Indiana wouldn't be able to do as good a job as the founders of the state. There are several snappy comebacks to this particularly weak brand of thought and it isn't the first time that the best minds doubted the ability of the rank and file to govern themselves.

That's one of the principal troubles with the present constitution for it is all on the side of the best minds and the great bulk of the people are denied their rights and privileges because these rights and privileges many times run counter to the desires and the wishes of the so-called best minds.

The constitutional convention would enable a new slant on the judiciary—one that is badly needed if the people are to retain the government in their hands. Under the present constitution and its interpretation by the supreme court the judge can cite for contempt and be the accuser and also the judge of the action.

With this dual power the judiciary sits upon a high seat and declares that he can do no wrong, consequently anyone opposing the judiciary acts even if he is right deserves nothing more than having his head copped off for being so impudent as to challenge the act of a judge.

It's the same old divine rights of kings idea that has been so successfully smashed throughout the world, but the echo is found in the judiciary through the succession of English law into the interpretations of our constitution and laws. It is high time the state constitution was changed to correct this abuse.

Just recently a judge at Vincennes cited for contempt two examiners of the state board of accounts because they were going to release a report in which the judge was criticized for permitting high legal fees in connection with drainage work. These two examiners were cited by the court, fined and sentenced.

This is reminiscent of the fight of the editor of The Post-Democrat not so long ago against E. Judge Dearth and the state supreme court's most infamous decision that truth was no basis for defense.

The judicial situation is only one of the many present-day problems that need correction through the Constitutional Convention. Vote for it and don't let the so-called best minds insult you with the argument that you are not capable of governing yourself. It is time for the men and women of Indiana to awaken and assert their rights against these so-called best minds and voting for the Constitutional Convention is one of the best ways to do it.

He Means Business

Acquaintances of Frank Mayr Jr., Democratic candidate for Secretary of State, can appreciate the statement he issued in the final stretch of the campaign as words of sincerity and characteristic of the man himself.

The statement will be recognized not as idle prating but the conceptions of the highest type business man as to the duties confronting him.

Here is what he said: "When I am elected Secretary of State, it will be my purpose to assume the full responsibility of office. Public office is only an opportunity to serve and in serving you, it will be my constant aim to surpass the fondest hopes of those that have honored me with their confidence.

"Economical and efficient service will be our motto. Fancy frills and extravagances, which have been offered you in the past, will have to give way to economy, efficiency and honesty.

"The office of Secretary of State will be used to serve you as a citizen and will not be used to build up a political machine for myself or any other person."

Labor Declares Mr. Fifield Is Unfair

Otto G. Fifield, candidate for reelection as Secretary of State, has been declared "unfair" by organized labor according to a statement recently issued by a Gary union.

The following notice has been given to the press by the Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers of America:

"This is to certify that Condit and Fifield are unfair to the painters' organization due to the fact that they employed non-union men to paint their building at Fifth and Washington St., Gary, Indiana.

"The Fifield mentioned is Otto G. Fifield, candidate for Secretary of State on the Republican ticket in the election to be held Nov. 4, 1930."

Signed: F. H. DETRICK, Business Agent,
Local Union No. 8.
Gary, Ind., Oct. 17, 1930.

All Prosperity and No Money!

From reading the daily newspapers' propaganda on the industrial and business rainbow which suddenly swept down upon Muncie, just a few days before the election one would gather that there was considerable prosperity here amongst us.

"All Prosperity and No Money," was the critical view of one citizen.

Took Stock Out of Stockport

City police took the stock out of Stockport a few days ago when they raided a residence and store of the community six miles north of Muncie—still in Delaware county.

For they found a truck load of booze of various descriptions and carted it into police headquarters. Mike Gallagher and Bernice Barber were arrested and charged with violation of the liquor laws.

Detective Sergeant Joe Herdring and Detectives Nelson, Tuttle, Collins, Stewart and Hovious conducted the successful raid.

This is another time that the city police obtained a big haul of liquor in the county outside of the city. Drying up these sources of supply aids considerably in the enforcement of the laws in Muncie and the activity of the police department along these lines is certainly most commendable.

Still No Postoffice Annex

The hand that cracks the whip of the Congress won't lay the corner stone of the postoffice annex, it seems.

For Albert Vestal, another term seeker, has failed to keep his promise to Muncie in the postoffice addition although the funds have been available since June.

Just what his delay means, it's hard to fathom, but it does seem that Vestal would be too much of a gang cohort to leave the two daily newspapers here out on the limb, for they have built the postoffice annex twice already this summer.

It's a dirty trick for Albert to prove these daily newspapers here as printing untruths when they go to such odds to help Vestal retain his swivel chair and his hand on the House whip. Perhaps, likewise, it merely shows how much Vestal has the two daily newspapers buffaloes to print his propaganda and then hear nothing from him.

Albert ought to do his part. It's our guess that Claude Ball will finally have to spend the 180,000 bucks that have been jumping up and down in the Treasury Building at Washington waiting for Albert to put them to work, but Vestal won't get these dollars out of the treasury even by Christmas it seems.

When Ball gets to Washington it is a dead cinch that his first act will be to get going with the postoffice annex—no foolin'.

and are widely known throughout the state. They embody the highest traditions of the judiciary.

Claude C. Ball, the party's nominee for Congressman, has been conducting a most effective campaign against Albert Vestal and reports throughout the district indicate that he will take the scalp of the Anderson gumshoer, with a good margin to spare.

County and township tickets are well known to the voters of the county and respective townships and much interest is being centered in the races. Democratic meetings have been unusually large and the enthusiasm very marked indicating that the voters are preparing to give the Democratic candidates a big vote and sweep them into office with a most decisive victory.

PROSPERITY IS

through its ministrations can the country be assured of prosperity. That assumption and the fiction built up thereon have done much harm in befuddling the electorate. That fiction is now exploded, burst wide open, exposed. At least, that much good has come out of Republican hard times. We may expect, I trust, that from this depression some of our people will learn sounder views about government and its functions.

Mr. Woollen then compared the Republican conception of government with that of the Democrats. The former, he claimed, is based on a belief that prosperity depends upon governmental action—that it may be legislated, while the Democratic view is that it is the function of government to provide security and freedom from the handicap of special privileges so that people may achieve prosperity for themselves.

"Six times in 1927 and 1928, while we were sowing the wind in the speculative field, President Coolidge supported activities on the Stock Exchange by unwarranted ed pronouncements about our economic well-being when thoughtful and informed men knew better. Six times Mr. Mellon did the same thing. They induced false hopes in those who speculated in stocks or real estate or commodities and are now paying the penalties," he declared.

Then the speaker referred to Mr. Hoover's optimistic statements after the depression came calculated to conceal the facts and induce a false and harmful confidence.

"Third, the Republican party contributed to the badness of our times by the enactment of the Smoot-Hawley tariff. It was characterized by the Indianapolis Star last May as 'tariff blundering' and as a 'raid on the public purse'."

NANCY CARROLL STARS IN FILM

Nancy Carroll, the adorable idol of millions of film fans, is triumphing in a new dramatic play at the Rivoli theater.

"Laughter" is a vehicle which gives full opportunity to Miss Carroll for a display of her emotional capabilities. She doesn't miss a moment of this big chance for new dramatic hours. Throughout the tense action of the play Miss Carroll sweeps along in a superb portrayal of an ex-Follies girl who, as the wife in a misallied marriage, tries to be loyal—and is, but who always seems to be victimized by the irony of circumstances.

Fredric March, as a young pianist composer who had been in love with Nancy prior to her marriage to Frank Morgan, the rich broker, pops into the picture again as a romantic menace, a sort of Bohemian heartthrob and troublemaker.

A series of unfortunate events gets Nancy more and more into ill-favor with Morgan. Finally she is accused of the death of a young sculptor suicide. She eventually proves her innocence, but the scandal has been too much for her long-suffering husband, and he breaks off with her.

There is a romantic rebound from the earlier love with March which colors the finale of the picture.

TWO COUNTY STUDENTS

Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 31.—Hester Clio Bailey of Selma, and Chase Dallas Pearsey of Muncie, are enrolled in the Indiana State Teachers college from Delaware county for the present Fall Quarter, according to a recent classification of students by counties which was made in the office of Registrar Robert K. Devericks.

The enrollment for the present term has been officially announced as 1502, the greatest number that has ever been enrolled for a Fall Quarter in the history of the school. This exceeds the enrollment of a year ago by 110 students and passes the former high mark of 1464, which was established during the Fall Quarter of 1926, by 39 students. The enrollment is drawn from 75 counties of the state and six states other than Indiana.

REVENUE LOSS

total out of work now at 3,500,000, inclusive of a normal unemployment of 1,000,000. This would indicate a disposition to believe that there had been no increase in unemployment since spring.

The figures of the Standard Statistics Company are arrived at by comparing the number of persons employed a year ago—26,376,762—with the number employed now—22,635,095—and adding 750,000, "the so-called irreducible minimum of unemployment, which includes those affected by the 'interval' between jobs and those who ordinarily work temporarily."

The Standard Statistics Company's review estimates that in the last twelve months purchasing power of workers has declined $5,853,000,000. The earnings of the employed a year ago are given as $44,697,900,000 and at the present time as $35,751,000,000. Average earnings, it is stated, have declined from $1,700 to $1,550.

"Even more important," than the number of jobless," says the review, "is the apparent fact that incomes of workers has declined... because of wage cuts and part time employment."

This latter statement, it may be pointed out, is at variance with the Republican propaganda, which lists one of President Hoover's achievements as the prevention of wage cuts and reduction of employment.

Secretary of Commerce Lamont, who heads the Cabinet Committee on unemployment, is reported to be drafting a national program of relief. That ought to be easy for him. Secretary Lamont, it will be recalled, is the official who recently announced that the amount of unemployment was only a little more than seasonal.

NEW ANIMALS AT STATE PARK

Indianapolis, Oct. 30.—(UP)—Visitors to Pokagon state park this fall will see additions to the wild animal herds which this state conservation department maintains at the park, department officials said today.

During the fall, five fawns were born, and an elk. In addition a family of Canadian geese has one additional member.

A number of plants and flowers are very good sun dials, opening and closing regularly.

CLAIM IS FILED

A claim of $361.77 against the estate of Mary A. Ankrom has been filed with the county clerk by Jaqua & Ayres, partners. F. B. Jaqua is attorney for the plaintiff.

MAN GETS TO SLEEP IN JAIL

Hammond, Ind., Oct. 29, (U.P.)—Milton Nygren was given a bed in the city jail after he fell asleep at the wheel of his auto and crashed into an automobile driven by Policeman Andy Eaton. Nygren was arrested on a charge of reckless driving.

TURN ON THE SUN

these chilly days

When the sun is out of sight, and your home is chilly and uncomfortable... turn on a Radiant gas heater and instantly enjoy its cozy, healthful heat—the same kind of heat rays as those of the summer sun. ## An Independent Newspaper's Idea OF INDIANA'S POLITICAL SITUATION

(An Editorial Appearing in Indianapolis Times)

Effrontery That Amazes

"We ask you to stamp your approval on an administration whose record largely has been one of mismanagement, extravagance and gross laxity in conduct of state affairs."

That in reality is what Republican candidates for re-election are asking of the voters of Indiana.

That is the record on which the secretary of state, the state auditor, and the state superintendent of public instruction stand.

They are asking a supposedly intelligent electorate to approve the administration of the highway department, which shows an increase in overhead expense of $1,226,239 over the last fiscal year, an increase due largely to a flood of unjustified salary boosts and unrestrained spending in the maintenance division.

They are asking these same voters to approve the manner in which the state school aid fund has been handled, resulting in a deficit of approximately $2,500,000.

The Republicans ask re-election of a secretary of state who has made the state police force merely a political machine working for his interests, instead of the interests of the people of the state. He has shown little or no activity in enforcing the blue sky laws. Every move he has made has been made with political gain in view. He has devoted far more time to his campaign than he has to the business of the state, and that business has suffered accordingly.

The state superintendent of public instruction has put politics and his own advancement ahead of the cause of education. He fought before the last legislature to keep administration of school aid funds in his department, instead of under the board of accounts, where these funds had been more capably handled and a ghastly deficit is the result.

He has sought a letdown in the restrictions on child labor, which could undo much of the work accomplished for protection of children of Indiana. He, too, has devoted a great portion of his time to his campaign for re-election, neglecting the position of trust in which he was placed.

The state auditor consistently has dodged decisive action in the gasoline fee scandal. He has made little or no effort to expose those guilty of sharp practices, which have defrauded the state of thousands of dollars.

These men seek re-election on their records. Their effrontery is amazing. The voters should answer with such a landslide against them that even the most brazen politician will be convinced that they are through with mismanagement, extravagance and laxity.

State Democratic Committee

WHO'S WHO DEMOCRATICALLY

In this issue of the Post-Democrat you will find several write-ups concerning the various Democratic candidates. These have all been prepared and written by special writers and not by the candidates or the Editor. They are political advertising and their expense is born by the candidates or his friends.

LOOK HIM OVER, BUT DON'T OVERLOOK HIM

It is easy to overlook a fully qualified man whose name appears on the list of candidates running for Congress. But in this article the writer asks that you look over the numerous qualifications and ability of Mr. Claude C. Ball. He is the kind of man who can do things for the 8th District. He has demonstrated by his dealings as an Attorney here in Muncie, that he will not allow business to accumulate. Those matters that are for him to take up and decide, he does so only after the deepest consideration and with the needs of the people at heart. We need a man for Representative in Congress for the Eighth District who will take action upon the up-to-the-minute problems of our State and Nation. A man of the type of Mr. Claude C. Ball naturally become extremely valuable to the 8th District, since his years of experience as an Attorney make him familiar with the various duties. Mr. Ball has been found to be a very brainy man in public life, a man of great sagacity, a profound student of public and state affairs. He has the broadest intellectual interests of the 8th District at heart.

Mr. Ball stands for more liberal pensions for World War veterans, and he is a strong believer in more restricted immigration law. He believes it would be wise to close the doors of our nation to foreigners, so that the jobs could be given to Americans. He will be a strong pusher for such pressing problems as Public Schools, Farm Co-operation and Farm Problems, the Laborer Problems, and we believe that the good sound minded people of this district should not hesitate to rally to his support in his race for the office of Representative in Congress from the Eighth District. Look him over friends, then when you go to the polls, be sure not to overlook him.

LET WHIPPLE SERVE US!

One of the most important offices to be filled this year is that of Prosecuting Attorney of Delaware county. The prosecutor of any county must be a substantial man, and therefore the office requires a man who is fearless and at the same time conscientious to the full extent of performing his duties showing no partiality.

We heard an expression from one of our most prominent citizens, some one made the remark, "Who will be our next prosecuting attorney?" and he replied, "Oh, let Tod Whipple serve us and he will do things for the people." There is no doubt that many of his good friends think the same way. Mr. Whipple is one of Muncie's most prominent attorneys at law, and he seeks the election on the Democratic ticket.

He is a man who has many friends throughout the county. A man whose personality is most pleasing and character beyond reproach. If elected Prosecuting Attorney, Delaware county will have an honest and efficient officer, who will enforce the law in every respect. He realizes that an orderly community, the security of the state, home and life, lie within the strict enforcement of the law.

We know Mr. Whipple to be a man of his word, trustworthy and conscientious; consequently he will receive the support of many of the voters at the election on Nov. 4th.

"Let Whipple serve us," is a popular slogan throughout the county.

F. W. BARRETT FOR COUNTY ASSESSOR

The logical candidate for County Assessor, Mr. Edward Barrett, who is seeking the election as county assessor from Delaware county on the Democratic ticket, is making a very active campaign to date, and his friends declare that he is the logical candidate, and the best man for the job and the success of the party.

He has held positions of trust and has been found faithful to each of them, and his rise is absolutely free and independent of any particular group or institution, and urges that voters should thoroughly give him the best of their considerations.

He will ever be vigilant in looking after the county's interest, whatever assessing talent is required. We believe that he is a very accommodating and always ready with whatever assistance can give to the voters, who put their trust in him.

The writer feels that Mr. Edward Barrett is a capable, courteous man to be our next assessor, and we believe that he is the logical candidate on the Democratic ticket.

He Looms Up As a Strong Candidate for Clerk

Nowadays people are giving more thought to the candidates they choose for public office and we feel sure that in the selection of a candidate for County Clerk in Arthur J. Beckner that the public has not only found a young man who will not only care for the duties to this official office, but will always be found on the job.

The people of this county are indeed fortunate in having such a progressive man as Mr. Beckner to seek this office. He is the Democrat nominee and is making his campaign on his past record. "Art," as he is known here in Muncie, is a graduate of Central High School, where he won himself a name, being a member of the Bearcat basketball team and also winning his letters in track, football and baseball. He may be said to be the most outstanding athlete turned out at Central.

After graduation, he went to Indiana University, where he again won himself a name as a basketball and football player, being one of the leading scorers in the Big Ten Conference by basketball. He also won himself a scholarship medal, while at I. U., which is called the Big Ten Medal. He worked his way through college and may be said to be a self-made man.

After graduation from I. U., he took the position as Head Coach at Wilson High and Assistant Coach at Central, which job, he held until he resigned to be the candidate for Clerk.

"Art" does not need to tell his friends what he will do if he is elected, as he has shown by his dealings to be a success in his very undertaking. Mr. Beckner has always taken an active interest in the affairs of the County and in seeking the election, brings before the voters, a character beyond reproach, personality that is most pleasing and ability that is equaled by few, surmounted by a determination to serve honorably and conscientiously, as he has done in the past as an active young man of the County. His many friends declare that he looms up as a very strong candidate.

WHO SHALL BE OUR NEXT TREASURER?

In the selection of a County Treasurer of Delaware county, the people should choose a man who has the reputation of being thoroughly familiar with the details of the office to which he aspires, for it means $'s and c's to the people. We know that Mr. Thomas Weir is just such an aspirant for the election as Treasurer on the Democratic ticket.

Mr. Weir will devote all his time to caring for the people's wants and will never shirk from duty if he is elected. As in this time of financial stress, the county is in need of the best talent that can be produced from among its citizens. Mr. Weir, prominent real estate dealer in Muncie, is indeed a thoroughly absolutely honest and painstaking man and is regarded by a vast number of friends as a man of very high ability and very sincere in his work.

He has spent much time in studying the duties of the important office, and being naturally ambitious, he is now well fitted for the office of County Treasurer. He is a person with a genial, pleasant and friendly disposition, which also helps to fit him for the office, where all the count's money is handled.

Thomas Weir desires your support on Nov. 4th and will look after the important job of handling the money as if it were his own, and take the best of care in giving to his patrons the best that he can. The writer in making inquiries as to the ability of Mr. Weir, found many of our best citizens who believe that he will make a good County Treasurer; so let us put in this office a man who understands how to handle the various financial problems which will arise, and elect Thomas Weir for County Treasurer.

BY HIS DEEDS YE SHALL KNOW HIM

A man who performs the duties of Sheriff of Delaware county does not need much of an introduction to our readers. "By his deeds ye shall know him", how true this is, for every one knows Sheriff Puckett.

He is a candidate for re-election for the office of Sheriff on the Democratic ticket on Nov. 4. During the time he has served he has gained a reputation of being one of the most efficient, fearless and aggressive officers that Delaware county has ever had. A man who can stand on his own feet and make decisions for the best interests of all, thinking of the laws of the state and nation while so doing.

Sheriff Puckett's biggest asset is his ability and determination, to serve the people of this county well, if re-elected as he has in the past. Over the whole county he is looked upon as a clean man who will carry out these duties of protecting the people of this county in an honest and efficient manner. He is a straight shooter, a capable and conscientious man to work in the interests and protection of the people.

If re-elected, Fred Puckett is pledged to another law-enforcing administration, one that will combine efficiency and economy to the voters and taxpayers of Delaware county. He earnestly solicits your support at the November election and will show appreciation, if re-elected by performing his duties in a fearless, diplomatic manner.

THINK BEFORE YOU VOTE

If every man gave the amount of thought to voting that he would give to having a man take charge of his business affairs and every woman the same consideration she would give to having a servant, there would undoubtedly be a marked change in the efficiency of our public servants, that we hire on election day.

Think before you vote is the slogan that Carl D. Moore is carrying in his campaign for the election as County Commissioner of the 1st district, on the Democratic ticket.

Think not only of the man, but his qualifications, experience and ability to serve the people. Then take the man who measures up to your standards most fully.

The writer feels that he has found the man among our candidates for County Commissioner and that man is Mr. Carl D. Moore.

Mr. Moore is one of our leading citizens. He is a man thoroughly versed in the law and understands how to handle every situation that would confront a commissioner. He is an honest law abiding citizen, and we feel that if you really think before you vote that you will put the "X" before the name of Mr. Carl D. Moore.

HE WILL HELP US MEET THE DANGERS

In placing the name of Frank "Cap" Lafferty, candidate for Center Trustee for the election on the Democratic ticket, the patriotic people of this township will be helping to meet the dangers about us, and he will conduct the office with high standards of truth, honesty and service.

It is the wish of Mr. Lafferty as a candidate to the Trustees office that we shall turn to a real honest administration, where the people's interests are thought of and considered, as honorable and trustworthy, and he promises that he will be just in all things and will look after your interests. Under all circumstances where questions of principle are involved he will never compromise unless the people of Center Township are to be benefited.

He is an able man, being formerly connected with the police department for many years. He has long been active in the party affairs and has always been found on the square.

The writers in the survey of our county have found Mr. Frank "Cap" Lafferty to be a man of his word and we believe that he will stand back of his party and the people in every cause for a bigger and better Ideal Center Township.

SAMUEL SNELL STANDS FOR ECONOMY

Economy in public business is the principal plank in the platform of the party for Auditor of Delaware county. He believes this one plank is the most important duty to the citizens of Delaware county and through its redemption the people will receive the relief they expect from high costs of government.

Few are better known to the citizens of the county than Mr. Snell who for several years has been engaged in the real estate business. From one corner of the county to another he has friends who are familiar with his steadfast party spirit and the desire to be of service to the county.

Right at this time, especially, economy in public office is very essential. With his business experience Mr. Snell feels he will be able to put into effect in the auditor's office the necessary policies which the public is expecting and deem essential to the continued welfare of the county.

The county auditor is in direct contact with every phase of the country's business and in this key position Mr. Snell will be able to carry out the many helpful policies he has in mind for the administration of the auditor's office.

Your vote for Mr. Snell will be one for your best interest.

HIGI FAVORS OLD AGE PENSIONS AND CURBING LOAN SHARKS TOLL

Old age pensions and the curbing of the activities of loan sharks are two of the important planks in the platform of Clarence Higi, one of the nominees of the Democratic party for State Representative.

In his speeches Higi has advocated these two measures as benefits to the working men and women, especially. Old age pensions have occupied the attention of political leaders for several years as a means of correcting the present poor house system with disadvantages to persons who find it necessary to depend upon the aid of the county in their last days.

It is pointed out that old age pension plan would enable the aged men or women to live their declining years in the home atmosphere without the public stigma that usually follows the entrance to an institution of the poor.

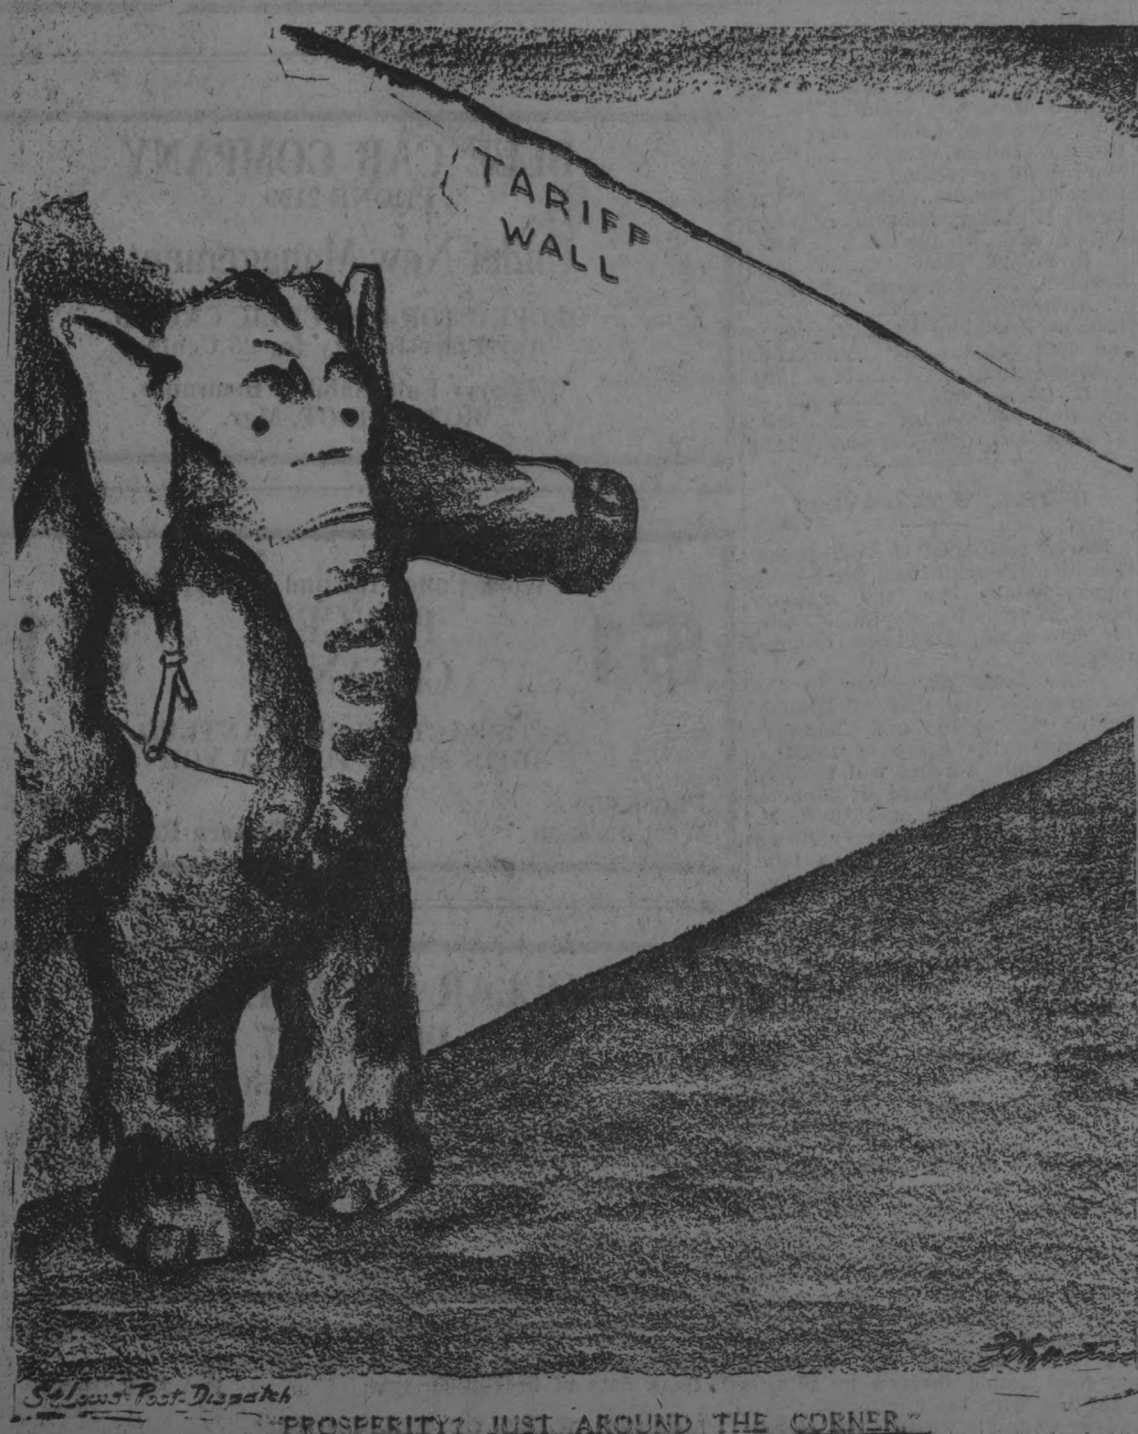

Cost of maintenance of these poor institutions are said to be fairly comparable to amount that would be paid in each county for poor house upkeep and expenses of maintenance. With this situation in mind the problem of the old age pension has been gaining favor among the people.

High interest charges of the so-called industrial loans of $300 or less which is set by law at 2 1/2 percent lower per month is viewed by Higi as excessive to the people who are forced to avail themselves of these loans.

Legal rate of interest on other loans is but 8 percent a year, and it is the opinion of the nominee for state representative that the industrial lenders would not be permitted to exact this high interest charge from the working men and women.

He points out that working people are the persons who are forced to obtain their loans from such sources and the tendencies of the banks has been to discourage small loans and thereby cause the small borrower to go to the industrial loan companies for this service.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS

In the matter of the determination to make additional emergency appropriations by the Library Board of the City of Muncie, Center Township, Delaware County, Indiana.

Notice is hereby given to the taxpayers of the City of Muncie, Center Township, and Delaware County, in the State of Indiana, that a public hearing will be held by the Library Board of Muncie, November 11, 1930 at 7:30 P. M. at the office of the Library Board in the Library Building, on East Jackson Street, Muncie, Indiana, on the determination and resolution of the Library Board to make special appropriations to the budget of the Library Board for the year 1930, out of the unappropriated balance of said Library Board's general fund, as follows:

Services contractual $900.00
Supplies $250.00
Properties-equipment $600.00
A complete detailed estimate of said appropriations may be seen at the office of the Library Board of the City of Muncie, Indiana.

Taxpayers appearing shall have the right to be heard thereon. After the special appropriations have been decided upon by the Library Board, ten or more persons feeling themselves aggrieved may appeal to the State Board of Tax Commissioners for further action and final action thereon by filing a petition with the auditor of Delaware County, within ten days
